Primrose Schools [ICSE]

It is not for our family, it is not to secure a good position, it is not to earn money, it is not to obtain a diploma, that we study. We study to learn, to know, to understand the world, and for the sake of the joy that it gives us.

Prim Bulletin

Welcome to the November issue!!

November was quite a fascinating month. We were so excited for children's day as it fell on November 14th! but it all started with rain holidays. Due to rain holidays, our children's day celebration was postponed.

Due to the heavy downpour, many areas in Chennai both rural and posh got flooded massively. It was an unexpected disaster that left many people homeless and they were forced to take shelter at government schools. Our school identified two areas and requested all parents and teachers to donate their old clothes. The response was enormous. The students from 7th and 8th accompanied the flood relief camp organized by our school and they had an opportunity to put a smile on many faces. The trip taught them to come out of their comfort zones and understand the real life situation of the flood affected people. It also taught them to be happy with what they have and not complain about things they do not have. We again had a series of rain holidays. To be honest the rain holidays were very boring and most of us started feeling school-sick just like how you feel homesick. But then the 8th, 9th and 10th graders attended Skype classes. When the school reopened in the midst of rain holidays, our spectacular teachers did not forget the Children's day celebration and within such a short notice, all of them staged a wonderful show.

It was spellbinding, funny and simply awesome. There were series of dances, dramas, songs and inspirational speeches in Hindi, Tamil and English.

Hats off to all of our magnificent teachers! The Skype classes were a wonderful way to get back to our friends and the experience was quite different, enjoyable and informative. Right now our exams have been postponed to the 7th January that too for eighty marks. So all the very best to everyone and we hope you have an amazing year ahead!

CHILDREN'S DAY CELEBRATION

November 14, as you all know was Children's day. All of us were looking forward to this day for we were all anticipating the performances of our teachers as a part of the celebration. But on the awaited day, the skies opened up, giving an unexpected holiday. All of us assumed that the celebration would be cancelled, because of the priority given to academics. But soon after the school reopened, we realized that the celebrations were going to be held.

The day on which the performances were due arrived. The celebration started with the teachers singing a melodious prayer song. This was followed by some songs in regional languages. Then a humorous skit was staged by the teachers which made the children laugh until their sides ached. Next came the dances which thoroughly entertained everyone. A speech delivered by one of the teachers made us feel like we wanted to last as children forever.

But I presume the teachers also got a chance to recollect their school days...to cherish those memories.....when they were just like us, children- naughty and innocent, on Children's Day celebration. On the whole, these celebrations are worthy of being remembered by both students and the teachers.
